

What is a Mayor's City of Peace?

"TICK-TOCK TICK-TOCK"
—A 1949 Herblock Cartoon, copyright by The Herb Block Foundation

Mayors for Peace is a movement of cities world-wide for total abolition of nuclear weapons, first proposed in 1982 by the then-mayor of Hiroshima, Japan, Takeshi Araki.

Mayors for Peace now includes 4,467 cities in 150 countries, including half of all capital cities and all capital cities of nuclear powers except Washington DC and Islamabad. 160 are in the United States, including Boston, Hartford, Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

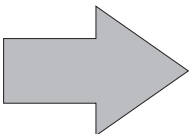

At its annual meeting in June 2009, the US Conference of Mayors adopted a resolution calling on President Obama to announce the initiation of good faith multilateral negotiations on an international agreement to abolish nuclear weapons by the year 2020, at the 2010 Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty Review Conference.

160 U.S. Cities Have Signed Up.... So What's Our Mayor's Position?

In New York City, Mayor Bloomberg is not interested.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

Join the movement to make New York City a Mayor's City of Peace.

For more information, take a look at the websites of Mayors for Peace www.mayorsforpeace.org and Brooklyn for Peace www.brooklynpeace.org (then click on Nuclear Zero)
Or e-mail the Nuclear Zero Committee of Brooklyn For Peace (nuclearzero@brooklynpeace.org).

Brooklyn For Peace www.brooklynpeace.org • (718) 624-5921

