PATHMAKERS TO PEACE

Welcome to the 2013 Pathmakers to Peace Honoree Reception

Welcome to the inaugural year of our Pathmakers to Peace Honors. Many thanks to the Brooklyn Historical Society for hosting our reception celebrating the honorees and their work.

Both the name, Pathmakers to Peace, and the logo for these awards were chosen to emphasize the many different pathways to peace, as well as to recognize those who have played a leadership role in forging new pathways. We're very pleased that this year we are honoring four Brooklynites, as well as a Brooklyn-based organization.

Our 2013 Pathmakers to Peace honorees are Dr. Ahmad Jaber, Arab American Association of NY; Rabbi Ellen Lippmann, Kolot Chayeinu and Children of Abraham Peace Walk; Lynn Nottage, Pulitzer Prize winning playwright ("Ruined"); Nancy Romer, Brooklyn Food Coalition and Brooklyn College Community Partnership; and FUREE (Families United for Racial and Economic Equality).

Brooklyn For Peace has been working for close to 30 years toward the goal of eliminating war, and the social and economic injustices that lead to war. The idea for our organization was conceived exactly 30 years ago in October, 1983, when as nursery-school parents we sought to find a response to the U.S. invasion of Grenada. With our official birth as Brooklyn Parents for Peace, in the spring of 1984, we joined other groups in a coalition which succeeded in deterring the Navy from building a proposed nuclear-capable homeport on Staten Island. Since then we have sustained and grown our organization, as we seek different ways to address the urgent tasks of ending war and creating a culture of peace in our communities. Recent events in Syria and the Middle East emphasize the importance of finding ways in which we can be effective in calling for peaceful responses to conflict.

Brooklyn For Peace is non-sectarian and non-partisan. We connect global and local issues. We are primarily an educational organization; we see activism as an integral part of our mission.

We still have a long way to go in achieving our goal: a world free of militarism, social and economic injustice. Thanks to our long-standing members for your commitment. If you are not already a member, please become one, and join us in building a world free of war.

In Peace,

Melissa Corbett

Pathmakers to Peace Honorees

Dr. Ahmad Jaber

Dr. Jaber has been a Bay Ridge community member for over thirty years. He currently sits on the board of Beit Al Maqdis Islamic Center, the Arab Muslim American Federation and the Islamic Mission of America, and was a past president of the National Arab American Medical Association-New York Chapter. He is the Board President and one of the original founders of the Arab American Association of New York. He is the President of the Brooklyn Heights Clergy Association, and he is a board member of Brooklyn Congregations United and St. Nicholas Home. Dr. Jaber is a retired obstetrician and gynecologist.

Rabbi Ellen Lippmann

Rabbi Ellen Lippmann is founder and rabbi of Kolot Chayeinu/ Voices of Our Lives, a 21-year-old progressive Jewish community in Brooklyn, N.Y. Rabbi Lippmann is the former East Coast Director of MAZON: A Jewish Response to Hunger, and former director of the Jewish Women's Program at the 14th Street Y in Manhattan.

Rabbi Lippmann was co-chair of and continues to serve on the board of T'ruah: the Rabbinic Call for Human Rights, formerly known as Rabbis for Human Rights-North America. She is also on the rabbinic councils of J-Street and Jews for Racial and Economic Justice (JFREJ), and served as the first social justice chair for the Women's Rabbinic Network. She is the founder of the Soup Kitchen at Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in New York, and co-founder of the 10-year-old Children of Abraham Peace Walk: Jews, Christians and Muslims Walking Together in Brooklyn in Peace.
Rabbi Lippmann was ordained in 1991 by Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, and also received there the degree of Master of Hebrew Letters. She holds a BA in English Language and Literature from Boston University and an MS in Library Science from Simmons College. She is spiritually and legally married to Kathryn Conroy and they have lived together happily in Brooklyn for nearly 30 years.

To find out more, visit kolotchayeinu.org.

Lynn Nottage

Lynn Nottage's new play, By The Way, Meet Vera Stark, enjoyed an extended run Off-Broadway at Second Stage Theatre (Lily Award, Drama Desk Nomination) and most recently at the Geffen Playhouse. It can be seen this upcoming season at Lyric Stage in Boston and The Goodman Theatre in Chicago. Her Pulitzer Prize-winning play Ruined premiered at Manhattan Theatre Club and Goodman Theatre (OBIE, Lucille Lortel, New York Drama Critics' Circle, Audelco, Drama Desk, and Outer Critics Circle Award for Best Play). It subsequently toured widely throughout US regional theatres and premiered internationally at the Almeida Theatre in London. The play has since been produced throughout the world, including Cambodia, Chad, The Caribbean, The Democratic Republic of Congo, and Germany. Her other plays include Intimate Apparel (American Theatre Critics and New York Drama Critics' Circle Awards for Best Play); Fabulation, or The Re-Education of Undine (OBIE Award); Crumbs from the Table of Joy; Las Meninas; Mud, River, Stone; Por'knockers and POOF!.

Nottage is the recipient of the 2010 Steinberg Distinguished Playwright Award, the Dramatists Guild Hull-Warriner Award, the inaugural Horton Foote Prize for Outstanding New American Play (Ruined), Helen Hayes Award (Ruined), the Lee Reynolds Award, and the Jewish World Watch iWitness Award. Her other honors include the 2007 MacArthur Foundation "Genius Grant," the National Black Theatre Festival's August Wilson Playwriting Award, the 2005 Guggenheim Grant for Playwriting, the 2004 PEN/Laura Pels Award for Drama, as well as fellowships from the Lucille Lortel Foundation, Manhattan Theatre Club, New Dramatists and New York Foundation for the Arts. She is a graduate of Brown University and the Yale School of Drama, where she is currently a visiting lecturer. She is a co-founder and producer at Market Road Films LLC, a film production company.

Nottage is a board member for Theatre Communications Group, BRIC Arts Media Bklyn, Donor Direct Action, The New Black Fest, Voice and Vision, and the Dramatists Guild.

Nancy Romer

Nancy Romer, Chair of the Governance Board of the Brooklyn Food Coalition, a grassroots food justice organization working for healthy food access for all, sustainable food systems and justice for food workers. She co-founded BFC in 2009 and has served for four years as its General Coordinator, helping to launch the organization into its present form. Nancy has worked closely with all committees of the BFC and is our primary grant writer and development leader. She was a core organizer of the rank and file upsurge that brought a new progressive leadership to the Professional Staff Congress of the City University of New York, an American Federation of Teachers local representing the 20,000 faculty and professional staff. She served on their executive board for nine years. In that capacity she was chair of the union's Peace and Justice Committee and represented them at US Labor Against the War, starting at its founding convention. She also served as USLAW's rep to United for Peace and Justice through the war in Iraq. Nancy is Professor of Psychology at Brooklyn College and Executive Director of its Community Partnership, serving over 1500 Brooklyn teens each year. She has a Ph.D. in developmental psychology and has written extensively on issues of political participation and human development, including covering social movements in NYC, Mexico and Bolivia. An organizer and activist for over 40 years, she lives in Brooklyn with her husband, Lew Friedman, where they raised their now-adult two sons.

FUREE (Families United for Racial and Economic Equality)

FUREE (Families United for Racial and Economic Equality)is a Brooklyn based, multi-generational, member-led organization, made up mostly of women of color. We organize low-income communities to build power to change the system. We fight for a world without poverty, where everyone's work is valued and all of us have the right to self-determination. We achieve the changes our members seek by using direct action, leadership development, community organizing, voter engagement and political education. FUREE's guiding principle is that the people directly affected by our issues are the true experts.

Brooklyn For Peace Committees

☐ Anti-militarism (counter–recruitment): addresses the aggressive military recruitment of youth in Brooklyn and the militarization of our high schools and provides information about alternatives to the military. Also, works against militarism as a tool of U.S. foreign policy. nowar@brooklynpeace.org

☐ Arts + Culture: brings together artists working in all media and performance arts with the focus on contributing to building the peace and justice movement in Brooklyn. artists@brooklynpeace.org

☐ Climate Action: addresses the connection between the peace and environmental movements and seeks to change U.S. policy to conserve precious resources and promote more effective, less destructive, and more peaceful solutions to the effects of climate change. climateaction@brooklynpeace.org

☐ Diversity and Outreach: reaches out to connect with marginalized and underrepresented communities. outreach@brooklynpeace.org

☐ Fundraising: without funds. we cannot do the work! fundraising@brooklynpeace.org

☐ Israel-Palestine: seeks to end the Israeli Occupation and achieve a just, negotiated peace in the region. is.pales@brooklynpeace.org

☐ Peace and Economic Justice: seeks to "move the money" from war to vitally needed domestic programs; keeps pressure on Congress to change spending priorities and end the wars; strengthens and unifies Brooklyn's voice against the Iraq and Afghanistan wars. pej@brooklynpeace.org

☐ Peace Fair: Since its inception in 2003, the Peace Fair has combined public awareness activities with culture, the arts, and experts in sociopolitical fields. Creates a venue where artists and activists work together to reach out to those not yet involved in the peace movement. peacefair@brooklynpeace.org

☐ UNICEF: builds awareness of children's rights while raising money for children's development, health, protection and education; reaches out to schools, merchants and neighbors, encouraging participation in the annual Halloween Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF. unicef@brooklynpeace.org

Task Forces

☐ Darfur/Africa: works to increase public awareness of the genocide in Darfur through educational outreach, and to generate political pressure to stop the genocide; also plans to focus attention on understanding developments in other regions of Africa, and on the impact of U.S. foreign policy there. darfur@brooklynpeace.org

☐ International Law: aims to facilitate an understanding of international law, which is central to the core principles of Brooklyn For Peace. We believe that international conflicts should be resolved peacefully via the United Nations and using internationally accepted rules of law. bfp@brooklynpeace.org

☐ Latin America: addresses the impact of US militarism on Latin American countries. latinam@brooklynpeace.org

☐ Nuclear Zero: develops resources in support of a world free of nuclear energy and nuclear weapons. nuclearzero@brooklynpeace.org
